

STAINLESS STEEL WARE

Diverse surgical stainless steel products

The Liberty® branded stainless steel ware is made from a high quality stainless steel specifically manufactured for surgical products. The medical grade stainless steel is a highly corrosion and rust-resistant alloy. The metal is extremely strong and durable and, more importantly, has a characteristic ability to form protective layers.

The Liberty® range includes steel trays for different purposes, buckets, lids, kidney dishes, bowls, cups, jugs, jars, instrument holders and bed pans, etc. are preferred in steel. These products are manufactured using seamless technology which eliminates areas that can harbour bacteria growth.
